The Aetna Foundation is Building Healthy Communities by investing $6 million in opioid response at the state level.

In Florida, the Aetna Foundation is awarding $1 million to the Florida Alcohol and Drug Abuse Association (FADAA) to strengthen community and intervention services supporting individuals impacted by opioid abuse.

"We know that every state, every community and every person impacted by the opioid epidemic faces a unique fight. Through the work we’re doing in Florida, it is our aim to help empower local organizations on the ground with the tools they need to win."

– Dr. Garth Graham, President of the Aetna Foundation, Vice President of Community Health for Aetna

To learn more about the Aetna Foundation’s efforts to tackle the opioid epidemic as part of Building Healthy Communities, visit aetnafoundation.org.